Appendix 10.2 Cultural Heritage Gazetteer

Introduction

The Cultural Heritage Gazetteer constitutes a list of all the heritage assets identified during the assessment. It is split into three tables, each corresponding with the study areas identified during the Cultural Heritage Chapter of the EIA Report:

- Table 1: The Inner Study Area;
- Table 2: The Middle Study Area; and
- Table 3: The Outer Study Area

The Gazetteer should be used to provide additional information to the Cultural Heritage Chapter of the EIA Report and Appendix 10.1, the Baseline Assessment and should be read in conjunction with Figures 10.1, 10.2 and 10.3.

In Table 1, question marks appear in parenthesis (?). This has two meanings:

- They are used when sites are newly recorded during the Baseline Assessment and the names for the site are suggested based on nearest topographical features; and
- They are used after asset descriptions where the site is newly discovered and the 'type' is based on professional judgement and is not definitive.

HH01	Common Hill / Hagshaw Hill	Shieling Huts	Archaeological Remains	279673, 279699, 279773, 279702, 279681	630205, 630190, 630134, 630150, 630145	NRHE, SMR	ID45567 SMR9683	N/A	Low	A group of at least five collapsed, turf-built shielings and associated field banks. The five shielings are recorded as follows: HH01.A - Irregular mound c.6m diameter and over 1m high. (NS79673 30205) HH01.B - More complex structure, but not very clear. 7m diameter by c.0.40m high. (NS 79699 30190) HH01.C - Rectangular mound, c0.80m high, 3.50m wide and 6m long. (NS 79773 30134) HH01.D - Rectangular mound with dipped interior. Measures 8m long by 4m wide with height of c.0.20m. (NS 79702 30150) HH01.E - Low rectangle with dipped interior. Measures 7m long by 4m wide, with height of 0.30m. (NS 79681 30145) Located during walkover survey.
HH02	Smithy Burn / Hagshaw Hill	Enclosure	Archaeological Remains	279020	629930	NRHE, SMR	ID89298 SMR15772	N/A	Low	Very overgrown circular enclosure, probably a disused sheepfold c.13m in diameter, with banks c.0.30m high and up to 1m wide. Faint traces of a rectilinear enclosure around the circular enclosure? Located during walkover survey.
HH03	Broomerside / High Broomerside	Settlement, Farmstead, Fermtoun	Archaeological Remains	279410	629620	SMR	SMR67315	N/A	Low	A small settlement or steading represented by three buildings and two enclosures is shown at or near this location on General Roy's Military Survey of 1747-55. Although the site is not directly named by Roy's surveyors, the map shows another small settlement to the S, and both settlements appear to be associated with the name "Broomerside" which is placed between them on the map, and may refer to the lands occupied and farmed by the inhabitants of both building complexes. The presently ruinous farm of High Broomerside is shown at this location on the mid-nineteenth century and later Ordnance Survey maps. On the 1st Edition O.S. map, there appears to be one roofed building, a two-celled 18m x 6.5m structure aligned approximately N-S. What may have been an E-W aligned range of small, interlinked enclosures adjoins the roofed building at its N end, and maybe stock enclosures. These structures sit at the NE corner of a roughly rectangular enclosure measuring c. 42m E-W and c. 38m N-S. A well is shown at NS 79392 29615, immediately to the W of a burn or small watercourse running through the W side of the enclosure. By the time of the 2nd Edition O.S. map of around 1900, the well is no longer marked, and a larger trezoidal enclosure measuring approximately 100m N-S and c. 92m E-W at its N end and c.63m wide at its S adjoins the structural complex. On this map, a 9m diameter circular enclosure at NS 79555 29780 is marked as "Old Sheep Ree", although it is shown on the earlier 1st Edition map, it is not so named. This would seem to imply that the steading shown on the O.S. 1st Edition and subsequent maps is a sheep farm, which supplanted the two settlements shown on Roy's map, and which itself undergoes modification of its stock-handling provisions and enclosures in the later 19th century. Degraded farmstead of cement bonded faced rubble with dressed quoins, brick and concrete lintels. Located during walkover survey.
HH04	Windrow Burn / Hagshaw Hill	Enclosure, Field Bank, Shieling	Archaeological Remains	280000	630050	NRHE, SMR	ID89297 SMR15771	N/A	Low	Heavily degraded, low, sub-circular earthen enclosure on N bank of Windrow Burn. Measures c.19m N-S by 10m W-E. Ephemeral linear bank noted immediately N, running W-E. Visible on modern OS maps and located during walkover survey.
HH05	Podowrin Burn	Field Boundary, Hut, Rig and Furrow	Archaeological Remains	278450	629510	SMR	ID318428	N/A	Low	Rig and furrow interpreted as medieval. Recorded on aerial images from 8th November 2009.

HH08	Broomerside	Farmstead, Settlement	Archaeological Remains	280100	629400	SMR	SMR 67316	N/A	Low	A small settlement or steading represented by three buildings and an enclosure is shown at or near this location on General Roy's Military Survey of 1747-55. The site is not shown on mid-nineteenth century or later Ordnance Survey maps. Roy's map shows another small settlement to the NW, and both settlements appear to be associated with the name "Broomerside" which is placed between them on the map. Although it is likely that the other Broomerside site shown by Roy is that of the modern High Broomerside (see WoSAS PIN 67315), the topology of the sites in the landscape, and their relationship with the watercourses makes it very unlikely that this more south-easterly site is the same as the later Low Broomerside, which is not shown on O.S. maps until the mid-twentieth century.
HH09	Broomerside (?)	Animal enclosure (?)	Archaeological Remains	279474	629778	DBA	N/A	N/A	Low	Circular earthen enclosure of c.14m diameter and banks up to 0.60m high and c.0.80m wide. Visible on modern OS maps and located during walkover survey.

HH13	Broomerside Hill (?)	Earthen Bank	Archaeological Remains	279303, 279295	629888, 629942	DBA	N/A	N/A	Low	Low N-S aligned linear earthen mound. Spread to c.2m wide, c.0.80m high. Lies to west of a deep drainage cut. Upcast from drain? Relict field boundary? Located during walkover survey.

Recorded on Frame 3260, Sortie 106G/Scot/UK/0087 from 1946. Not located during walkover survey.
Outwith the Proposed Development boundary, but within 1km
HH24	Henry's Hill / Hagshaw Hill	Cropmark	Archaeological Remains	279650	631150	NRHE, SMR	ID89284 SMR15765	N/A	Low	Rectangular trace c 70m long E-W by 50m wide visible on vertical aerial photographs (106G/SCOT/UK87, 10 May 46, frame 4069); not located by field survey, and possibly the result of differential vegetation growth.
HH25	Rob's Hill	Enclosures	Archaeological Remains	281340 281280	630290 630250	NRHE, SMR	ID46526 SMR10150	N/A	Low	On the south slopes of Rob's Hill, are two circular enclosures, c.73m apart. The SW enclosure consists of a turf bank 2.0m broad by 0.2m high and measures 16.0m in diameter. A shallow ditch 2.0m wide surrounds the enclosure. The second enclosure is covered by the same NRHE entry but lies outwith the site Study Area. It is formed by a turf bank, 2.0m broad by 0.3m high and is 14.8m in diameter. A shallow ditch 1.5m wide lies round the outside of the enclosure. The purpose of these enclosures is uncertain but it is probable that they are old plantation banks, as they contain tree stumps regularly placed round them. Possibly disused sheepfolds.
HH26	Rob's Hill / Hagshaw hill	Cropmark	Archaeological Remains	281440	630700	NRHE, SMR	ID89286 SMR15767	N/A	Low	Annular trace c 20m in diameter visible on vertical aerial photograph (106G/SCOT/UK87, 10 May 46, frame 4071); not located by field inspection, and possibly the result of differential vegetation growth.
HH27	Windrow	Farmstead, Settlement	Archaeological Remains	280660	629520	SMR	SMR 17303	N/A	Low	A settlement or steading represented by at least four buildings and five enclosures named "Windrow" is shown at or near this location on General Roy's Military Survey of 1747-55. Roy's map shows the complex of features rather further away from the burn than the modern sheepfolds, but this may be a conventional factor for cartographic clarity.
HH28	Mucksfoot, Monksfoot	Farmstead, Settlement	Archaeological Remains	278670	628460	SMR	SM 67317	N/A	Low	A settlement or steading named "Mucksfoot" and represented by three buildings and two enclosures is shown at or near this location to the N of the confluence of the Mucks Water (modern Monks Water) and the Douglas Water on General Roy's Military Survey of 1747-55. The area of arable or improved land indicated by Roy's surveyors to N and S of the buildings and on either bank of the Douglas Water suggests that the course of the river has altered since the mid-eighteenth century. For this reason, it is not possible to accurately gauge the relationship of the Roy-period site to the modern farm of Monksfoot, which may lie some distance to the NW of the earlier settlement's location.
HH29	Overmucks / Overmonks	Farmstead, Settlement	Archaeological Remains	279000	629100	SMR	SMR 67314	N/A	Low	A small settlement or steading named "Over Mucks" or possibly "Over Monks", and represented by what appears to be three buildings and two enclosures on the S bank of the Podowrin Burn is shown at or near this location on General Roy's Military Survey of 1747-55. The site is not shown on Ordnance Survey maps, on the 1st Edition of which (c. 1857) settlement on the S bank of the burn has shifted to near the pronounced E bend in the burn, where a farm called "Pyethall" is shown, on the opposite bank to the modern Low Broomerside farm. Roy's map shows no settlement at either of these later sites, although two sites which appear to be associated with the "Broomerside" name are shown to the NW

HH141	Mosscastle Hill, Cairn	Archaeological Remains	284215	623450	SMR	SMR10081	N/A	High	A roughly circular grass-covered mound of stones which stands on the summit of Mosscastle Hill (415m OD) probably represents the remains of a prehistoric burial cairn. Measuring 13.5m in diameter and 1.3m in height, it is traversed by a post-and-wire fence and a ruinous stone boundary-wall and has been extensively robbed, doubtless to provide material for the latter.
HH142	Andershaw, Chapel, Burial Ground, Well	Archaeological Remains	283133, 283175	624725, 624688	SMR	SMR10078	N/A	High	OSA records the presence of a chapel and burial ground. The Chapel Well is represented by a hollow, lined with small, unworked stones, from which a spring issues. There is no trace of the chapel but a bank, at best 0.2m high and spread 2.0m broad encloses the area of the chapel siting though the north extent is overlaid by a later sheepfold. This bank is almost certainly the boundary of a burial ground, though no grave-slabs are apparent.
HH143	Auchensaugh Hill, enclosures	Archaeological Remains	285395	627800	SMR	SMR10054	N/A	High	On a gentle east-facing slope are two concentric annular banks adopting a level stance; the whole is turf covered with no stones visible. the banks are 0.3m high on average; the outer is spread 2.5-3.5m broad, the inner 2.0-2.5m; a feature of both is the central depression that more or less follows the full circuit. The outer circle is 28.5m diameter overall, the inner 15.0m. No entrance can be seen. The site appears of some age and a ritual or sepulchral monument is possible. However, it could be a form of stock enclosure.
HH144	Kames, miner's cottages	Archaeological Remains	269355, 269265	625855, 625825	SMR	SMR12942	N/A	High	The turf-covered stone footings of two rows of miners' cottages, known locally as the Colburn Row, can be seen at NS 6926 2582. What is probably the remains of a further row lie at NS 6927 2565, while at NS 6935 2585, a modern stone-walled sheepfold occupies the site of another.
